

Candidate Marks Report

This candidate's script has been assessed using On-Screen Marking. The marks are therefore not shown on the script itself, but are summarised in the table below.

---

Centre No :	Assessment Code : 1123
Candidate No :	Component Code : 22
Candidate Name :

---

In the table below 'Total Mark' records the mark scored by this candidate.
'Max Mark' records the Maximum Mark available for the question.

Paper:	1123/22
Paper	44 / 50
Total:
Question	Total / Max Mark	Used In Total
1R	9 / 10	✓
1W	13 / 15	✓
2C&S	NR / 10
2S&A	NR / 15
3C&S	NR / 10
3S&A	NR / 15
4C&S	NR / 10
4S&A	NR / 15
5C&S	10 / 10	✓
5S&A	12 / 15	✓

Question Part

Text A:

best time of life

- educated for over 10 years, experienced
- Explored parts of country that haven't been visited before
- New experiences (cultural food)
- memories lifetime
- more independent
- solve problems, overcome challenges on own
- life skills that are useful in future
- Help gain and develop experiences, and skills that can't be taught in the classroom

Text B:

more useful ways to spend the summer

- very expensive
- same money can help cover further studies
- stay at home and get work experience
- work experience teaches life skills e.g. communication and time management
- more useful contacts that could help in your future career
- better to travel when you're older and can afford so that you enjoy it more
- time at end of school is a golden opportunity to prepare for your future

Question Part

1

✗ ArmishRehan@gmail.com

Dear Cousin,

How are you? P It has been so ~~long~~ long since we last talked. P I totally cannot believe that my little cousin is finally V graduating from a school! Do you have any idea how proud I feel? Anyways, I heard that you were ~~p~~ thinking about doing some travelling before university, so I thought P I'd help you out! Just like old times, right? P

L4

Firstly, P many people argue that this is will be one of the best times of your life. You've been studying relentlessly for more than ten years, and that V exhaustion really V accumulates over time you know? Well EVAL travelling is one of the best ways to ~~refresh~~ V freshen up, before a new start at university! I It allows you to make lifetime memories with close ones, allows you to experience I new kinds of cultures, food, traditions, and more. This especially V applies when you travel to parts of a country that you might ~~be~~ V unfamiliar not be aware of, or might not heard of before. Not only ~~do~~ will you have ~~enthrillt~~ V ~~or~~ I ~~enthrilling~~ V time, but you'll also develop life long ~~skitts~~ I ~~skills~~ skills, such as problem solving, money management, time V management, etc. DEV Stuff that you wouldn't typically learn in the classroom. All of this allows you to be I more independent, an EVAL ~~esse~~ V essential aspect of

L5

Question Part

your university life

EVAL

On the other hand, you'll find completely logical and valid arguments as to why you shouldn't travel in this time period.

DEV

Mainly because that this time, sometimes dubbed as the 'golden opportunity' to prepare for your future, can be ~~spent~~ in much more effective ways. For example, you could get a part time job or internship, which ~~and~~ and through these work experiences you can go on and develop useful life skills, such as communication and ~~money~~ time management.

✓ 2

DEV

Also, ~~p~~ this gives you the opportunity to make contacts that could make your future even brighter. The other ~~benefactor~~ benefactor of this argument is that it is everything related to ~~that~~ travelling is very expensive. It is wiser to spend the same money on ~~for~~ your future education, and then travel when you're older, so that you can spend more on the trip and ~~enjoy~~ enjoy it even ~~v~~ more.

✓ 2

EVAL

✓ 2

DEV

In my opinion, ~~I~~ I believe the best for you option for you is to travel during this time ~~per~~ period. Sure there are more effective things to do in this time, but the experiences and memories that you will make will be ~~be~~ ~~worth~~ worth more than the any amount of money you'll ever make.

EVAL

Getting rid of the ~~fatigue~~ fatigue from strenuous excessive studying is truly what enables you to be a better and effective learner

L5

Question Part

in university. ~~Other~~ ~~other~~. Otherwise you'll only end up carrying that burden with you, not only hurting yourself, but your grades, and the loved ~~ones~~ ones around you.

In the end, I hope you'll take my thoughts into consideration ~~when~~ when deciding on what to do. Even if you don't, know that I'll always be here to help you whenever you may need me. Remember that I always trust you, and will be proud of you whatever path you choose.

Lots of love,

Your Cousin,
Ahmed

* spent

1R: L5 met.
1W: L5 met.

Question Part

5

Beauty. It's a word that holds a different meaning for everyone. For me<sup>3P</sup> For me it's the inky black color of the tarmac, the smell of burning tires, the whir of the bikes engines just before they roar to life. ~~It was~~ To me it was like an orchestra, playing the most surreal and and captivating symphony possible known to mankind. I vividly remember the day of my when I first saw my first ever race. Despite being 11 at the time, I ~~so~~ could recall every little detail from that memory. At 5, I learned to ride on a pocket bike. By 10 I was regarded as an upcoming talent. Now at 17, I, Zane Rivers, was the best and only prodigi racer and greatest prodigy in southeast U.S.A., aiming to get to the top.

In only 6 months, I was to face the gateway to my future. One race that would put me in front of the eyes of professional teams and sponsors. However, not only was I to face prodigies from all across the Americas, I would also be up against the cream of the crop from Europe and Asia as well. I could not let my dream slip from my hand, as I had finally gotten a hold hand on it. I work relentlessly, day and night, on the track off the track, to the point of exhaustion where I couldn't even move a muscle as I lay in ~~best~~ bed. I refuse to give up until I was the best. That night I could faintly make out my parents talking in hushed voices.

Question Part

"P He's over working it again. I swear that boy will do something to me someday. My ~~maths~~ the disclaim<sup>v</sup> in my mother's voice clear as day. P Well you're the one who started him on this path. You should've atleast ant<sup>v</sup>icipated this. P My father, as calm as ever. "Ah, I knew, I knew." My mother said with an exasperated<sup>v</sup> sigh. With ~~two~~ two months left, ~~the organizers~~ now, the organizers hosted pre-season testing, <sup>(P</sup> which I topped, of course) <sup>P</sup> and a practice race on a different circuit. As I pulled my leathers on, ~~with~~ I couldn't help but to grin. This was my dream. In the <sup>v</sup> flesh. Right before me. As I got to the tarmac end onto my bike, my crew chief signalled to go all out. I couldn't stop grinning again. Seen the lights went off, and the race got under way. I cruised to the lead with surprising ease, then the worst possible <sup>v</sup> ~~had~~ happened.

My rear ~~fit~~ time wobbled ~~and~~ started to wobble <sup>v</sup> and ~~came~~ launched itself, and the bike, as soon as I noticed. Everything went black. All I felt was heavy ~~thud~~ as I landed in the gravel, pain jarring<sup>v</sup> my shoulder and collar<sup>v</sup>. I woke up sometime later, <sup>P</sup> to which to my dismay was 18 hours. My mother and father sat beside me, crying. As I looked around I saw ~~to~~ I was in a hospital bed. "Wha-" I ~~sta~~ started to speak, but was interrupted by the doctor as he came in. "The scans say his vitals ~~are~~ are fine. Just a dislocated shoulder and some torn muscles in his calves." He turned to me as I sat up. "You're lucky you landed on your shoulder. A crash like that is usually worse." He said gently. "Yeah, real lucky." I muttered. As time passed, the reality set in. I was never meant to be a racer. I should just quit before I really hurt myself, right? It ~~fit~~ Suddenly my mother spoke, "Don't you dare give up now! Not after you've worked so hard!" It felt as if she had ~~read~~ read my thoughts. "But-" "No ifs, ands, or buts!" she said firmly. I couldn't let her down now.

Question Part

After two months of rehab, rehab, medication, and more practice, I was back to my old self, however ~~scared~~ scared for what felt ~~tip~~ like my entire life. Today was race day. I nervously pulled on my leathers, and had a solemn face. I walked slowly to the track, my body screaming to go the other way. ~~I~~ At this point, I knew I had to overcome my fear if I was going to win. I hopped onto the bike, gritting my teeth. ~~The~~ The warm smile of my crew chief and parents made me remember how I got here. I had to win, <sup>P</sup>losing was never an option. The lights went off and I accelerated <sup>V</sup>. My mind clear of all thought. I was in the zone. I ate ~~ate~~ tore through every ~~corner~~ corner with a ferocity I had dreamed of achieving someday. I fought off ~~any~~ anyone trying to overtake me, putting them in their place. I was going to win ~~this~~ this if ~~it was the~~ even if it was the last thing I would ever do. I pushed as hard as I could <sup>F</sup> on the final lap, fending off three racers. The chequered <sup>V</sup> flag was waving, as if calling my name. I crossed the final ~~straight~~ * to the finish line. I had done it. <sup>F</sup> I stood up on my bike and <sup>V</sup> pretended to play the violin, my favorite celebration. <sup>L5</sup>

Question Part

<sup>F</sup> As I pulled into my garage, the whole place erupted into pandemonium <sup>V</sup>. I was jerked left, right, up, even down! Everyone lauded around me chanting <sup>V</sup> my name. That was when I saw my parents. I rushed to them and pulled them in as tight as possible. <sup>P</sup> "Thank you, thank you so much!" <sup>P</sup> I forced out of my mouth through sobs. <sup>F</sup> "Always," <sup>V</sup> they both said warmly. "I never expected you to lose, ever." My mother spoke in a <sup>V</sup> gentle tone. These words were

Question Part

F

engraved into my heart, and I ~~have~~ <sup>do</sup> would carry them ~~to my life's end~~. with me to the end of my life.

L5:

★ straight

CS: L5 met.
SA: L4 met.

