

Candidate Marks Report

Series : 6 2025

This candidate's script has been assessed using On-Screen Marking. The marks are therefore not shown on the script itself, but are summarised in the table below.

Centre No :	PK862	Assessment Code :	1123
Candidate No :	122	Component Code :	22
Candidate Name :	FATIMA MEHFOOZ,

In the table below 'Total Mark' records the mark scored by this candidate.
'Max Mark' records the Maximum Mark available for the question.

Paper:	1123/22
Paper	48 / 50
Total:
Question	Total / Max Mark	Used In Total
1R	9 / 10	✓
1W	14 / 15	✓
2C&S	NR / 10
2S&A	NR / 15
3C&S	NR / 10
3S&A	NR / 15
4C&S	NR / 10
4S&A	NR / 15
5C&S	10 / 10	✓
5S&A	15 / 15	✓

Question Part

Q1	Subject: Making the most of your break - a golden opportunity to explore. Dear Cousin, I hope this e-mail finds you in good health. I feel ³extremely proud of you for grad finishing school and graduating with 7 passing all your exams with flying colours and am more than happy to offer you advice on how you would utilise your break before embarking on a new educational experience in university. When it comes to making the most out of this break, there are certainly contrasting views offered by groups of people. Some believe it is a perfect opportunity to treat yourself with a travel trip planned with your closest companions while others deem it as an unproductive, irresponsible and irrational use of L5 time. Some people assert that the summer break is a golden chance to secure yourself financially for the future by taking up part time jobs or offer a helping hand to a relative in handling their business. Though it is this can be helpful in gaining work experience and raising funds for higher education, I believe it would be extremely exhausting, burdening and unappealing for youngsters.
----	---

Question Part

like you ~~who~~, especially right after finishing school. These people also claim that this time can be utilised in increasing ~~your~~ connections and building close affiliation with people who may be instrumental in your career. ~~But later on~~ Though, ~~off~~ a seemingly wise insight, I ~~believe that~~ this task can be accomplished in a more fruitful way during ~~your time in~~ university, since you would interact, communicate and associate with peers who share similar ambitions ~~as you and could~~ ^{and} offer you help and advice in this task. ~~That~~

Moreover, people are also of the view that taking up jobs ~~during the summer~~ could educate you on managing your time and operating with different groups of people in a workplace. I must agree, this advice could benefit you in ~~some ways~~ however you must realize that this goal is not a piece of cake to accomplish. Navigating time and ~~your~~ relationships with ~~your~~ colleagues requires maturity which ~~would~~ comes with age. So dedicating your ~~hard~~ hard earned, long awaited and rewarding summer break in achieving a task you are not yet fit for accomplishing is not ~~what~~ ~~I would~~ recommended.

Moving on, let us ~~take a~~ look at the other side of the coin. Travelling during this break would allow you to gain exposure ~~in terms of~~ variations of cultures, customs and traditions found country wide. This would enhance your knowledge and ^{socialize} with ethnic groups while enjoying their local cuisine. This would be educational, entertaining and enjoyable - all at once!

Question Part

Furthermore, it can teach ~~you~~ to operate ^{on} your own, without parental guidance and learn to budget your trip expenses accordingly. ~~I believe~~ Do you not agree that ~~this provides~~ you an opportunity this would gain ~~you important~~ experience for your upcoming adult life? And ~~certainly~~, the cherry on top ~~is the price~~ are is the priceless, unique and long-lasting memories you ^{will} make with your closest friends.

To conclude, I would recommend you to travel during this time without ^{worrying over} ~~conside~~ - ① ~~ing~~ the costly ~~accommodation~~ and conveyance ~~that comes~~ with this trip since there are many ~~equity~~ student deals and discount offers for such travel plans. ~~It is definitely a~~ ~~sett~~ I hope that you will follow my advice and I wish you best of luck for the future!

Regards,
Fatima

Question Part

- ① worrying over
 ② allow you to
 ③ positive that you will pass your. (343 words)

Q 2 5 Task # 5

I gulped down ~~another glass of water~~ ~~as I tried to~~ compensate for the beads of sweat forming on my forehead and streaming down my ~~the~~ face, resembling raindrops on a windowsill. My ~~breath~~ My mind filled up with dread, as I tried to come to terms with my situation. My body shuddered as I thought of ~~at~~ the anticipation, hope and belief my nation had in me for winning this boxing championship. I could ~~already~~ feel my pulse quicker as I recollected the ~~time~~ previous events of the previous championship: how I had let down my supporters, how brutally I had been beaten to a pulp by my opponent and how disappointed my coach had ~~to~~ seemed when they announced my defeat in the boxing ring. No matter how hard I tried to repel that memory, it engulfed ~~my~~ ^{me} brain once again like a cloudy mist. 15

* * * * *

The crowd roared as I felt another blow to my face, and P fell face down onto the boxing ring's floor. My body throbbed in pain as I writhed in agony, and curled up like a baby who had been swaddled by its mother. The cheers of the opponent's supporters emanated from all corners of the ^{arena} ~~room~~ and engulfed my ears, reiterating my humiliating defeat.

Question Part

I tried to open my eyes, only for the arena to dissolve into a whirlpool before my eyes as I faded into a dark abyss - the only thing I saw before fainting being my coach's disheveled state, as he ~~held his head~~ tried to avoid looking at the crowd, evading the humiliating taunts.

✱ ✱ ✱ ✱ ✱ ✱ ✱ ✱

~~Wiping down the sweat~~, I ~~tried~~ shivered at the recollection and put my mind to the task ahead: Tonight was the final match of ~~this~~ the same international championship I had lost four years prior, and I would be facing the same opponent today.

The door to the training room creaked open ~~at~~, breaking my train of thought. I was told to come outside for the match was about to commence. I quickly stood up, my head held high ~~and my footse~~ as I tried ~~not to betray~~ the fear that had started to conceal

Question Part

shaking up inside me - for I knew I had to overcome my fear if I was going to win.

The crowd erupted into a ~~thunder~~ of claps as I set foot inside the ring. ~~Camera flashes blinded my vision as I~~ looked around. Rows and rows of audience roared chants of support for me while they held up banners of me. ~~Giant spotlights roared.~~ The arena was painted with murals of contrasting colours to signify the rivalry between the two sides. Giant spotlights shone from above while ~~news reporters~~ large screens broadcasted the event live.

A loud thud distracted me from my trance as I looked up to see my opponent standing inside the ring. He was a tall built man with squared shoulders and a broad structure. His hair, ~~was~~ black as coal, tied loosely into a bun. ~~The smirk~~ A smirk appeared on his face as he closely examined me. ~~to detect any signs of fear.~~ His stare I felt his stare burn into the back of my head as he bared his teeth in order to intensify my fear. However, I did not find him intimidating: nor his muscular arms or his iron fisted hands ~~or his~~ could intimidate me today.

Question Part

I lept towards him as the starting whistle reverbrated through the arena. An adrenaline surge overcame me ~~at~~ I targetted him again and again. Punch after punch, I could feel his demeanour waver and his confidence extinguish - ~~though I did not~~. The gasps and cheers that sounded from the audience ~~and~~ ignited determination inside me. With laboured breathing, and a calculated move, I made the opponent loose his balance with a fined blow to his ribs and he lay eagle-sprawled on the floor.

L5

The final whistle sounded ~~at~~ the opponent surrendered and my ears were met with cheers and the melodious hum of my nation's anthem ~~that sounded over the speaker~~. I felt tears of joy stream down my face as I ~~that~~ muttered gratitude to the fans who ~~had believed in me and allowed me~~ while the reporters swarmed around me like bees and the feeling of victory surged through my veins.

L5

(240 words)

SPR:
CS:L5 met
SA:L5 met

Question Part

mind map Q : 1

points for travel :

- relaxation
- exploring
- local customs, cuisine
- long lasting memories.
- develop skills
- entertaining

against travel :

- costly,
- take up jobs
- financial security
- career growth
- work experience.

mind map for Q2 :

narrative

→ a boxing match

Setting of an arena :

- character description : opponent.
- plot : overcoming fear
- use similes : like raindrops on window sill etc
- figurative technique.
- happy ending.

